

Hitoshi Murayama at Work

Director of Kavli IPMU
Hitoshi Murayama

January 13: In the Cosmo Planetarium Shibuya at the Shibuya Cultural Center OWADA, after a preview of a new program for Cosmic Front, Planetarium Version, "Look for Dark Matter," Director Hitoshi Murayama (left) and the University of Tokyo School of Science/Kavli IPMU professor Naoki Yoshida (right) discussed about dark matter with Tamarokuto Science Center Director Yuichi Takayanagi (center) as a moderator.

January 16: A photo shoot in the Director's office for making Hitoshi Murayama's life-size photograph panel.

March 8: Giving an opening talk at the Symposium: MEXT Scientific Research on Innovative Area "Why Does the Universe Accelerate? – Exhaustive Study and Challenges for the Future –" held at KEK (see p. 16). Photo: Courtesy of KEK IPNS.

March 9: Hitoshi Murayama (right) with KEK/Kavli IPMU Professor Masashi Hazumi (center) and Kavli IPMU Associate Director Nobuhiko Katayama (left) at the symposium banquet. Photo: Courtesy of KEK IPNS.

March 30: At the Kavli IPMU's Administration Office farewell lunch, (photo on the left) Hitoshi Murayama giving an opening address; (photo on the right) with those who are leaving the Kavli IPMU. General Manager Junichi Mizukami (rightmost), International Relations and Researchers Support Section Head Akiko Fujita (2nd from right), and Assistant Professor Hideki Tanaka (leftmost).

